

“The 43 Game” Invitation

The Black-E celebrated its 43rd Birthday on 27th May 2011, with the launch of ‘The 43 Game’.

You are invited to produce a photograph of a created work or a discovered scene, object, or image which features the number ‘43’. The one absolute rule is this ... if a child is given the photograph and is asked what number they can find, then their answer should be ‘43’. Beyond this rule there is absolute freedom.

This game is a bit like a game which ‘The Guardian’ invited their readers to play. The tabloid section of the paper (g2) produced a calendar in tabloid format, with each month illustrated with a photograph featuring the abbreviation ‘g2’. The photographs included a ‘g2’ drawn outdoors on sand, contained in a pattern of Smarties, on a spiders web, on a breakfast plate, and on a fork as part of a ‘spaghetti letters and numbers’ meal.

The Black-E’s ‘43 Game’ works created will be printed A4 size and displayed in the Gallery as a birthday celebration.

We will be very pleased to receive ‘43’ works from recipients of this invitation or from anyone to whom this invitation has been passed on. Please email your photograph to [staff@theblack-e \[dot\] co \[dot\] uk](mailto:staff@theblack-e.co.uk) marked ‘The 43 Game’ with your name and contact details.

Not Featured

Ongoing

Cost(s)£0.00 GBP

Concession

Cost

Everyone

Donation

Day(s) and Time(s) Weekdays (Mon-Fri)

Weekends (Sat-Sun)

Event Contact(s) Email: staff@theblack-e.co.uk

Source URL (retrieved on 25/02/2020 - 13:07):

<http://www.theblack-e.co.uk/content/whats-on/exhibitions/%E2%80%9C43-game%E2%80%9D-invitation>