

Bill's 12 Hour Dance Marathon

12 HOUR DANCE MARATHON COMPLETED !

Bill completed his 12 Hour Dance Marathon at 10pm on Saturday 19 September.

At 8.55 Bill danced solo to the final chorale from Bach's St. Matthew Passion, and was then joined on stage for a final one hour session of funky soul dancing.

"HARD TIMES REQUIRE FURIOUS DANCING" (Alice Walker)

One response to Hard Times at The Black-E - a reduction of 25% (£150,000) in Arts Council support over 3 years - is a series of 'Arts of Survival' events. First up is Bill's 12 Hour Dance Marathon, held in a Youngsters' 12 Hour Sponsored Sleepover, 8pm-8am, Friday 25 September.

Bill arrived in Liverpool in 1961 to perform at the Empire Theatre in a show starring Tommy Stinson, playing football during the day and dancing on stage at night. In 1967 Bill created the first Choreographed Black with a company of international dancers to celebrate the Opening of Liverpool's Metropolitan Cathedral. Since 1969 Bill has been a leader at The Black-E (Britain's first community arts project). Five decades on and Bill, now almost 90, is still dancing.

Come and support Bill. Come and dance with Bill. All dance styles welcome.
